

GENERAL EDUCATION PLANNING TOOL

This tool will help you plan your General Education courses. It is not connected to your academic record.

- It will not schedule your courses.
- It will not serve as an official transcript or audit.
- It will not list courses for which you already have earned credit.
- It will not list prescribed courses for your intended major.

As you plan courses, remember that General Education has an intentional goal of creating exploration and breadth in your academic experience. Because of this, generally General Education courses and courses for your major Do Not double count. Exceptions exist for many programs, please confirm with an academic adviser or the University Bulletin (see Degree Requirements). Also, courses with the same prefix as your major may not count in General Education (ECON major cannot use ECON courses as General Education), except for courses satisfying Integrative Studies/Inter-domain. This rule is sometimes referred to as the Firewall.

Not all courses are available at all campuses and you can search for your program's prescribed courses on the official University Bulletin website and suggested plans.

Knowledge Domains/Integrative Studies

Inter-domain courses may only be used in the Inter-domain and Exploration categories. The Exploration category must contain at least 3 credits of coursework with GN (this maybe an Inter-domain course) and the remaining credits can be satisfied with any GA, GH, GN, GS, or Inter-domain course and may include 3 credits of World Language course work beyond the 12th credit level or the requirements for the student's degree program, whichever is higher.

Flexibility of General Education Requirements

The General Education program extends the concept of flexibility to all aspects of the degree program. Penn State wants students to use General Education as an opportunity to experiment and explore, to take academic risks, to discover, and to learn.

A student may:

1. Substitute a 200- to 499-level course in an area of General Education for a course found on the General Education list. For example, a student may take a 400-level course in history and use it to meet the General Education requirement satisfied by a comparable lower-level history course.
2. Substitute 3 units of a World Language course at the 12th credit level of proficiency or higher that exceed the student's minimum degree requirements in either of the Foundation areas (GWS or GQ) of General Education.
